MINISTER FOREWORD

As the Minister of State for Tourism and Sport, it gives me great pleasure to once again provide the Foreword for Club Choice Ireland's 2019 magazine, 'Golfing Destinations in Ireland'.

As an island nation we've always had a deep appreciation for visitors to our country as you must travel by plane or boat to get here. And it's a journey which we want you to make again and again. The past number of years has seen more of you visit us than ever before with record numbers visiting Ireland in the past year. At the time of writing this, we've welcomed over 600,000 more people to Ireland than we did in 2017. While these are very promising figures, we must not rest on our progress. I firmly believe that we've always more to offer as a destination and the continued growth of our golfing visitors is something that is very satisfying to me.

The golf tourism market is extremely important to the country with thousands of golfers visiting our fairways each year. Each and every one of these visiting golfers, whether playing one of the world's best links courses or an 'off the beaten track' hidden gem, needs to ultimately experience the same Ireland. Our hospitality. Our warmth. Our hundred thousand welcomes.

Having met with Tiernan & Larry of Club Choice Ireland, I know that they carry the same belief and will continue to spread our positive message throughout their designated markets.

If you are thinking of a golfing trip to Ireland, you're in safe hands with Club Choice. If you've already arrived, then céad míle fáilte!
